

Pakistani officials suspect Taliban militants behind Islamabad bombing

Contributed by Webmaster

More info...

Pakistan's interior ministry says Al-Qaeda linked Taliban militants are most likely behind Saturday's suicide bomb attack on the Marriott Hotel in Islamabad. The announcement comes as rescuers continue to comb the devastated building for further bodies. At least 53 people were killed in the explosion, including the Czech ambassador to Pakistan. Most victims were Pakistanis. Over 270 people were injured in the blast. Authorities in Berlin say seven Germans were wounded in the attack. Pakistani o

Tuckpointing Richard Dasch is President of Rose Restoration International, celebrating 30 Years of Marble & Stone Restoration in the world's finest hotels.